THE CONVENTION NOW SURE OF ITS AIM. Before the result of the vote was announced Messrs. Depew, Henderson, Quay and Platt were seen in conference on the floor. They were afterward joined by M. A. Hanna, of Ohio, Sherman's trusted friend. The issue was probably settled there and then.

Sherman had 244 votes, about the same as befere and Harrison had 278, and so led Sherman. Of the other candidates little need be said in view of the next ballot. It is worth noting, however, that Gresham retained the exact votes he had received on the sixth ballot and that Allison even gained three. The remainder, with the exception of McKinley, all fell behind. Creed Haymond received one vote, the freak, probably, of some prac-

As soon as the announcement was made General Henderson, of Iowa, was seen mounting upon his chair to speak. All listened eagerly. He thanked the friends of Senator Allison briefly and withdrew his name. Much excitement followed. As if in an instant, the aisles were filled with delegates running about talking eagerly, questioning, arguing, expostulating. It was a long time before order could be restored sufficiently to allow the roll call to be begun. The confusion was great. Alabama asked for more time and finally made a request, through the chairman, that outsiders be kept away. A portion of the Pennsylvania delegation were seen going out for consultation. Ex-Governor Foster and " Long" Jones, two leaders of the Sherman movement, were seen in anxious conference back of their delegates. Senator Farwell, the Gresham leader on the floor, was going about from delegation to delegation. The "Big Four" of New-York remained for the most part quietly in

THE EIGHTH BALLOT-ILLINOIS WITHOUT IN-FLUENCE.

At last the eighth, and as it proved, the last ballot began. When Alabama responded, it was clear that the avalanche was travelling fast, Sherman lost six votes, and Alger gained four, going to show that the Alger people had some wild hope of bringing him to the front in the midst of the wreck. Connecticut gave all her 12 votes to Harrison, which was a gain of 8. Harrison gained 7 in Georgia from Sherman, whose column began to melt away like snow in the sun. When Illinois was called, the delegation was seen to be in an eager discussion. Senator Farwell turned to the Chair and asked that Illinois be passed for the present. This was refused, and about the same old vote was cast: Forty for Gresham and four for Harrison. This was the sole outcome of the Gresham campaign: that the great State of Illinois had no more influence in the Convention than one of the streamers that drooped from the ceiling. If the delegation had gone to Sherman in the previous ballot, as its friends hoped it might, it would at least have given Sherman a fair chance of winning the prize. But there was nothing now to check the whirl to Harrison. Curiously enough, that solitary man in w appeared with a basket of sandwiches. heavy and sorrowful, took them eagerly, as if they felt the need of something to revive their drooping strength, and were soon munching almost as unanimously as they had voted for Sher-The chairman discovered this, and sternly ordered the sergeant-at-arms to see that the food was taken away. Senator Hoar's thin pipe announced 25 votes from Massachusetts for Harrison, a gain of 16. Michigan stuck to Alger as closely as ever. Thirteen votes from Minnesota, a main of 5. brought Harrison's column up to 203; and the roll-call had barely proceeded half way. New-Jersey gave all her 18 votes to Harrison, amid cheering; and New-York all her 72; so that Harrison now had the solid votes of the four doubtful States, always excepting that one obstinate Gresham man from Indiana.

The announcements were for the most part volleys of votes for Harrison, echoed by loud applause. Senator Quay managed to squeeze sound enough out of his throat to convey the information that Pennsylvania gave 59 votes to Harrison, and 1 to Sherman. Rhode Island dropped Allison at last, and gave her 8 votes to Harrison. Tennessee gave him 20 votes. This nominated him, making his vote up to this point 427. Texas followed with 26, and Vermont with 8, but Virginia could not unite even for a candidate already nominated; and 9 of the Mahone irreconcilables stood out for ROUSING SCENE AT THE CLOSE.

But from this time on, there was no break in the solid procession for Harrison, down through the list of Territories. There was some quiet amusement at the serious dissensions in the delegation from the District of Columbia. This consisted of one white man, Andrew Gleason, and one stalwart negro, Perry Carson. Their relations were somewhat strained, though they sat side by side. Each insisted on announcing his own vote for Harrison, which each did with great dignity. When Wisconsin had cast the last vote, a storm of cheering broke out, the whole gathering raising to its feet on the floor and in the galleries. Flags were waved in the galleries. Delegates leaped on their chairs and waved portraits of Harrison in the air. In the callery, Mrs. Foraker and a party of ladies with her, unfolded their white sunshades hung with fiags, that had already done duty more than once in the stirring scenes of the Convention, and swung them to and fro. One man in the lower gallery had two folding fans, that, when opened into a circle, were about the size of a cart wheel. They were both marked "Harrison." He had them both open now, and waved them wildly about, while he velled like a Comanche Indian off on a Saturday half-holiday. The aisles were filled with delegates, shouting, laughing and shaking hands. Chauncey M. Depew and ex-Governor Foster joked and laughed together.

What's the matter with Ben. Harrison?" came faintly through the tumult. "He's all right!" was the answer from a score of voices. And the gallery could be heard repeating The band was playing by this time an air which the crowd did not seem to recognize. Men made trumpets of their joined hands, and bawled: Play 'Hail to the Chief!' " without making any more impression upon the babel than a bird's chirrup against a strong wind. Finally, however, the band did play " Hail to the Chief," and followed it with "The Star

The fairest bids are often the first to wither, and the rayages of disease make favor with the beauty as well as the alreagth and happiness of the fair set. The prevalent discrders among American women are those of a most distressling description. These "weaknesses," as they are enggestively termed, insaidonaty sap the health, and the unitest becames pale and consciated, the appetite grews fickle and leeble; she losse strength as the attacks increase to swerrity and is in despair. There is relief for all such sufferers in Dr. Pierce's world-faned Favorite Prescription, which cures all "female complaints." It uses is followed by reseation of the "dragging-down" pains, return of appetite, and in due course, vigerous health.

Spangled Banner," the strains of which helped the chairman to restore order. If the cheering did not last as long as it sometimes does, it is to be remembered that this Convention has been cheering now for six days, and has lost something of the first freshness of its enthusiasm in that direction. When quiet was finally restored, the vote was announced: Harrison having 544, Sherman 118, Alger 100, Gresham 59, Blaine 5, and McKinley 4.

Then, after many glowing speeches, the nomina-

WHY NEW-YORK CHOSE HARRISON

THE RESULT OF HARMONIOUS ACTION.

ENTHUSIASTIC WORDS OF COMMENDATION FROM CHAUNCEY DEPEW, EX-SENATOR PLATT, SENA-TOR HISCOCK AND WARNER MILLER-THE DELEGATION THOROUGHLY PLEASED WITH ITS CANDIDATE.

TRY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE, J Chicago, June 25.-The delegates of New-York were beaming with satisfaction as they left the Convention Hall after the nomination of Harrison for President. Their good feeling was not wholly caused by the fact that they had contributed so largely to the result. With it was mingled the thought that they had acted in harmony as a delegation, and that this union of New-York Republicans in Chicago would be followed by their union in New-York. Chauncey M. Depew attributed the union among the New-York delegates to the dinner he gave them on Friday last. have been laughed at a good deal," he said just after the nomination of Harrison, " for declaring that a good dinner is the starting point of all business and political and social success. If it had not been for that dinner on Friday night, the New-York delegates would not have become acquainted with each other, and have exchanged views which led them to vote solidly for Harrison. We killed off the dark horses at that dinner. We saw the political wisdom of supporting stoutly a candidate from one of the doubtful States. The delegation became moulded together and acted as one man. I cannot but think that their united action will have a highly beneficial effect in New-The delegates will go back to New-York and tell their neighbors and political friends of the harmonious action among the New-York men at Chicago, and party harmony and union in New-York will follow.

"At the meeting of the four delegates-at-large of New-York on Friday last, when I told my associates of my intention of with-drawing as a candidate, I urged the of General Harrison. I did selection so on the ground that New-York's policy had been to nominate a man who could win some doubtful State away from Democrats. Harrison, I was confident, could carry the doubtful State of Indiana.

"I consider his nomination an excellent one. We are fertunate ., a party to have so good a candidate. He wis a brave soldier, he is the head of the bar of Indiana, his life has been a distinguished one, his character is above reproach, slander cannot touch him, he is sound on protection, his career in the Senate was a notable one, and then he is a grandson of "Tippecanoe," and there is immense poetic and political possibilities in that name. It is a name which carries prediction of another redemption of the people from Democratic misrule, and of another triumph and 'log cabin' canvass."

Ex-Senator T. C. Platt said, in commendation of General Harrison's nomination: "It is the best possible outcome of the Convention, and the unanimity and cordiality with which the nomination was received proves that no mistake was made. . . . The Democrats blundered when they neminated Thurman and set aside Gray, of Indiana. thus leaving a doubtful State open to us. We have observed this weak point in the Democratic line and have therefore flung Harrison against it to break it. With Harrison and Morton, I think we shall carry both New-York and Indiana."

HARMONY IN THE NEW-YORK DELEGATION. Senator Hiscock was rejoicing over the ticket this evening. "The New-York delegation," he Harrison. Curiously enough, that solitary man in the Indiana delegation would not vote for Harrison even now; and the vote still lacked one of being solid.

Senator Hiscock was rejoicing over the ticket this evening. "The New-York delegation," he even and allegiance of the Repulsion, the devotion Specially pleased me in the action of the New-York delegation has been its harmony of action. This morning, for instance, we entered the Contestion with a common agreement to support to enforce it would be resorted to. Mr. Boutelle, to all practical purposes nominated. About this specially pleased me in the action of the New-This morning, for instance, we entered the Convention with a common agreement to support Harrison. I am profoundly glad that General Harrison was selected, because he has high character and statesmanlike qulities, and I have character and statesmanlike qulities, and I have no doubt of his ability to carry Indiana."

"I served in the House of Representatives during the six years that he was a Senator, and I regarded him as one of the ablest of our statesmen. He was always faithful to the interests of the country. He is emphatically in sympathy with the leboring men of the country and desires keenly to protect our industries. It is a great advantage to us to have a soldier at the head of our ticket. The long deliberations of the Convention have had the effect of bringing to the surface a man who is its unanimous choice for President. He may be said to be the result of the best judgment of the delegates and the choice of the other candidates for President."

Ex-Senator Warner Miller said: "It seems to me we could not have made a better choice than for President."

Ex-Senator Warner Miller said: "It seems to me we could not have made a better choice than we have made in nominating General Harrison. He is a man of well-known probity, who was a Senator of high rank, sound on the doctrine of protection, with a good war record, with a high standing at the bar, and he lives in a doubtful State. The Democrats were in the guidance of such amateurs in politics as William L. Scott and William C. Whitney when they nominated Thurman and rejected Gray. I did not believe it possible when I read the newspapers' accounts of their intention of abandoning Indiana that they could make such a political blunder. But they went ahead with their programme and refused to nominate Gray, who is at the head of the Democratic party organization in Indiana, and they nominated Thurman. They will not gain the slightest help from Thurman in Indiana, while we, by nominating Harrison, have put ourselves in a good position to carry the doubtful State. State pride in a State candidate for President is worth 5,000 votes to any party. New-York has never been carried in late years by the Democratis in a Presidential year, except by a New-York andidate. Look at Horatio Seymour. Samuel J. Tilden and Grover Cleveland in proof of that assertion."

John W. Dwight, one of the New-York delegates, said: "I am delighted with the ticket. With Harrison for President, Levi P. Morton for Vice-President, and Warner Miller for Governor, we shall sweep New-York."

Senstor George B. Sloan, also a New-York delegate, said: "We see in this Convention the benesweep New-York."

Senator George B. Sloan, also a New-York delegate, said: "We see in this Convention the benefits of adversity. When we were prosperous as a party in New-York, we were sticking knives into each other's backs and never acted together at these National Conventions. We have had sense knocked into our heads by defeat, have acted harmoniously here, have looked about for a candidate that we could win with and I think we have found him in General Harrison."

STRONG WITH THE TEMPERANCE MEN. WHY THE NOMINATION OF HARRISON PLEASES THE

ANTI-SALOON REPUBLICANS. Chicago, June 25 (Special),-" The temperance element in the convention is particularly wellpleased with General Harrison's nomination," said Albert Griffin, chairman of the Republican auti-Saloon National Committee. "General Harrison's nomination is a great source of satisfaction to us. We could not have had a better candidate. He is a temperance plank in himself."

In explanation of this remark, Mr. Griffin read an extract from a speech delivered recently in Indiana by General Harrison. It is as follows: I want to say this, further. There may have been a time in the past when the Republican party of Indiana had alliance with the liquor interest; but I beg to say to all who hear me to-day that when the platform of the last State Convention was read and received with cheers by the great masses who heard it any alliance between the Republican party and the Liquer League had been severed once and forever. When this resolution fell from severed once and force. When this resolution foil from the lips of my friend who sits yonder, Mr. Halford, of "The Journal," as chairman of the Committee on Resolu-tions, a trumpet was sounded that will never call retreat. (Applause.) Why? Simply for the reason I have already given; the Liquor League is an organization framed to lefy the law, and therefore we are against it and it is against us. (Applause.)

"You see," added Mr. Griffin, "he is sound on the liquor question and is with us heart and soul."

Horsford's Acid Phosphate FOR SUNSTROKE.

THE WORK OF THE DAY.

HOW THE TIDE SET TOWARD HARRISON.

THE CHANGE OF VOIES, SLIGHT IN THE SIXTH BALLOT, BECAME PEMPRATIC IN THE EIGHTH, MAKING THE NOMINA-TION UNANIMOUS.

Chicago, June 25 .- Chairman Estee's voice was much better this morning when he called the Convention to order at 10:30 o'clock than it has been at any time since he lost his power of audibly expressing himself. After waiting about a minute for silence, he said:

The Convention will listen to prayer by the Rev. Dr. Arthur Edwards, of Chicago, Editor of "The Northwestern Christian Advocate."

Dr. Arthur Edwards, of Chicago, Entitle of Northwestern Christian Advocate.

The Rev. Dr. Edwards prayed as follows:

Oh Lord, our Heavenly Father, we worship Theo this morning that in Thy tenderness Thou hast again performed the mirace of waking this world and waling us from sleep and renewing to us the blessings of life, and therefore this morning instinctively we turn to Thee in adoration and worship for the good that has come into our lives. We thank Thee, our Father, that Thou hast sent us into this world upon a divine that the know that we are Thy children, and that, if the we know that we are Thy children, and that, if the we know that we are Thy children, and that, if the we have wandered from thee, by simply coming back and calling Thee Father Thou will fold us in Thine arms and give us Thine eternal blessing. We ask and calling Thee Father Thou will fold us in Thine arms and give us Thine eternal blessing. We ask morning to forgive our sins; to forget our wanderings; to bring us back to full allegiance and may we be conscious that Thy smile is upon us this morning. We ask Thy blessing upon this Convention the heart of every visitor, and let Thy spirit go back to the homes of these delegates, and may the lives and health of the families of these delegates be precious in Thy sight. We pray Thee, our Father, too, that Thy richest blessings may be upon the president of this Convention, and all the officers of the Convention. May Thy spirit be in the heart of Kings and Emperors and Presidents, and be in the Cabinet of the Nation, and so may we worship Thee, and being loyal to Thy truths, be lifted upward, and may this lower kingdom assimitate more and more the upper and better kingdom, toward which, we trust we upper and better kingdom, toward which, we trust we upper and better kingdom, toward when our day's serian; and Thy servants we are entitled to Thy blessing, and having that blessing may we be exalted in every moment of this day. And when our day's work is done, may we in the comfort of God and His The Rev. Dr. Edwards prayed as follows:

After the prayer, at a signal from the chairman, the band played "Nearer my God to Thee," Formal announcement of the extension of railroad tickets was then made on behalf of the Central Traffic Association, the Chicago Eastbound Passenger Committee and the Chicago and Alton Railread. The announcement was received with general applicates.

Mr. Houston, of Virginia—I desire to offer a resolution and to ask for its immediate consideration.

The Chair—Will the gentleman state the nature of The Chair—Will read it; that as the result of Mr. Houston—I will read it; that as the result of a ballot no vote shall be counted for a candidate who has not been regularly placed in nomination before such ballot began. (Cries of "No.")

The Chair—The resolution is out of order.

MESSAGES FROM MR. BLAINEL Messrs. Boutelle, of Maine, and Haymond, of California, here addressed the Chair simultaneously. The Chair recognized Mr. Boutelle.

Creed Haymond, of California, -Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of order.

The Chair-The gentleman will state his point of

The Chair—The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. Haymond—My point of order is that nothing is in order now except a call of the roll, and if that is not in order, I want to make a speech for Mr. Blaine, who is being betrayed in the camp of his friends. (Applause and hisses for order.)

The Chair—The point of order made by the gentleman from California is well taken, but it was understood by the Chair that the gentleman from Maine, Mr. Boutelle, rose to a question of privilege of the same nature as that to which the gentleman from New-York, Mr. Depew, and the gentleman from Ohio, Mr. McKinley, rose day before yesterday, and therefore the Chair took the liberty to recognize the gentleman from Maine, Mr. Boutelle, who will now state his question of privilege.

Mr. Boutelle took the platform and spoke as follows:

follows:

I find myself somewhat embarrassed in being thrown even into a semblance of antagonism to the representatives of that delegation from the great Piclic Slope, who have come here manifesting such a devotion to a chieffain whose banner I have followed with pride and affection, lo, these many years. (Applause) I would like, were the occasion appropriate and did I feel it proper, in view of the courtesy to which I am indebted for an appearance here at all, to preface the announcement I am about to make by some explanatory remarks. I shall not attempt to so.

No one in this Convention, no one in this mag

I read to the Convention, for its information, as have received them, these dispatches

To Boutelle and Manley, at Chicago:
Earnostly request all friends to respect my Paris letter.

JAMES G. BLAINE. That dispatch was received last right. This morn

Ing I have received the following:

Edipurgh, June 24.

To Boutelle and Manley, Maine delegation, Chicago:
I think I have the right to ask m; friends to respect my wishes and refrain from voting for me. Please make this and the former dispatcl public promptly.

JANES G. BLAINE.

TAKING THE SIXTH PALLOT. The Chair-Gentlemen of the Convention-The nex and regular order of business will be the calling of the roll by States for the selection of a nominee for President. I wish to say this, hovever, that the ser geant-at-arms will please see that the aisles are kep clear, and that order is observed, and in regard to the galleries, unless there is order, some serious steps will have to be taken.

This announcement in regard to clearing the galleries was cheered by the delegates. During the announcement of the vote of Alabama, every- of the vote of this Convention, the clerk will again thing was quiet, but when "One vote for Blaine" was announced there was great applause. "Sixteen votes for J. G. Blaine," the announcement from the California delegation, was cheered. The announcement of one vote for Fred. D. Grant, from the Georgia delegation, was not noticed by any demonstration. When two votes for McKinley were announced from Maine there was cheering. The announcement of three votes for Blaine, from Maryland, was cheered. When the State of New-York was called, Mr. Depew arose and cast seventy-two votes for Benjamin Harrison. This was received with great applause. Upon the announcement of the vote of the Ohio delegation "Solid for Sherman," amid the cheers and eries of "Good for Ohio," a delegate arose and said:

Mr. Chairman—I challenge the vote of Ohio and demand a poll. (A cheer.)

The Chair—is the gentleman dissatisfied as to the correctness of the announcement?

The delegate—I am.

The Chair—The gentleman moving for the call of the roll of the State of Chio will give his name. (No response.) If the gentleman declines to give his name, we shall pass to the next State, (Applause.) The Chair will order the calling of the roll dispensed with unless the gentleman calling for it will give his name.

The delegate-Luckey. (Laughter.)
The Chair-Mr. Luckey, of Ohio, demands the call of the roll. The elerk will call the roll.

The Clerk then proceeded with the call of the roll as follows:

J. B. Foraker, Sherman (cheers); William McKinley, erman (cheers). The Chair-This Convention is going to try to do The Chair—This Convention is going to try to do some business to-day and unless the galleries keep quiet the Chair will be compelled of course, unless advised otherwise by the Convention, to clear the galleries and to conduct business with no one but the Convention and the reporters present. (Applause.)

The clerk then proceeded with the call of the roll, every Ohio delegate answering "Sherman" until the clerk called "J. B. Luckey." He responded "Harrison." (Cheers.)

When the Chairman of the Tennessee delegation

spended "Harrison." (Cheers.)
When the Chairman of the Tennessee delegation had announced the vote of that delegation. Mr. Hughes, of Tennessee, demanded a call of the roll with the following result:

with the following result:

L. C. Houk, Sherman; A. McElwee, Alger; George Maney, Blaine; A. A. Taylor, Blaine; R. R. Eutler, Allison; Newton Hecker, Blaine; W. W. Woodruff, Blaine; G. W. Hill, Sherman; W. N. Hoge, Alger; C. E. Stanley, Elaine; C. Beatty, Alger; Eugene S. Priest, Sherman; B. S. Montgomery, Sherman; J. C. Dougherty, Harrison; J. B. Bosley, Sherman; H. L. W. Cheatham, Alger; A. M. Hughes, Jr., Sherman; W. H. H. Butler, Alger; S. N. Williams, Blaine; John A. McCall, Sherman; M. J. Lyle, Blaine; G. W. Winsted, Blaine; Thomas J. Brogan, Alger; Isham F. Morris, Sherman.

The Secretary—The vote is then Alger G, Allison 1, Blaine c, Harrison 1, Sherman 8.

VIRGINIA AGAIN CAUSES DELAY, When the State of Virginia was called, Mr.

Wise, from that State, announced the vote of all except the ten Mahone delegates, and the State had to be polled again for the sixth time. When the District of Columbia was called each of the two delegates announced his own vote; Andrew Gleason voting for Blaine and Perry H. Carson, the colored delegate, voting for Alger. The result of the sixth ballot was announced by the Secretary as follows: Whole number of votes cast, 830. Alger, 137; Allison, 78; Gresham, 91; Harrison, 231; Sherman, 244; Blaine, 40; McKinley, 12; Fred. Grant, 1;

Foraker, 1. By States the vote stood:

STATES.	No. delegates	herman	Intrison.	lger	resumm	111400,	laine	cKinley	D. Grant	огакет
Alabama	20	12	1	6			1
Arkanana	14	*	*	14	*	*	16			****
California	6	****
Connecticut	12	6		2		4
Delawaro	6	···i	5		1
Florida	24	19	1 2	5		****	••••	****	****
*Georgia		10	3		41			****
Indiana	80		20		41
Town.	26	+ 1.57			*	20			****	****
Kansas	18	1 9	6	6	3 2	3	1	****		****
Kentucky		9		5	5	2	L.S		****
Louistana,	12	3		17.24	2 2	ī		2		1
Maryland	16	- 6	6			1	3		****	****
Massachusetts	28	11	5	26	1		*	1	****	****
Michigan	26 14	*		3	5	x.	****	****	****	•
Minnesota Mississippi		14			3		1
Missouri	32	2	2	15	11	1
Nebraska	10	3		2		- 5	1117	****	****
Nevada	8	···i	6	5	*	· i		****	****	****
New-Hampshire New-Iersey			14	*	i		*	3	****
New-York	72		72
North Carolina	22	11	2	9	****		****		****
Ohio	46	45	1	*	*	*	···i	****
Oregon	60	54	6		D			****
Pennsylvania Rhode Island	8	2.2	0	*	*	8	****
South Carolina	18	6	1	11
Tenneasce	24	8	1	6		1	8	****
Texas	26	7	1	3	3	8	1	3
Vermont	24	10	8		*	5		,	****	***
West Vorginia	12	5	9	i	"i		2	1
Wisconsin.	20		21		1
TERRITORIES.	1		100	1						ŀ
Arizona	. 2		-	2	****	****
Dakota.	10	*	10	· i	*	*	1
Dist, of Columbia	2	*	1		2
Montana	2	1			1 1	1
New-Mexico	2	1		1	*		*			200
Utah	6	*	1	i	- 4	2
Washington		*	1
w John Ling				****				-	-	-
Totals	832	244	231	137	91	73	40	12	. 1

. One vote short.

PROCEEDING WITH THE SEVENTH BALLOT. At the seventh ballot when Alabama was called, that State was not ready to vote, and it was therefore passed for a short time. At 11:57 the Secretary started in again, but there was so much confusion that the Chairman was impelled to say:
May not the Chair ask the delegates to please be seated! And let the delegates be seated. We will not proceed until the Convention is in order.
Creed Haymond—Is this the roll call!
The Chair—This is the roll call.
Mr. Haymond—The State of California casts sixteen votes for the grandson of the hero of Tippecanoe.
(Cheers.)

Votes for the Ballocala—I don't vote for Harrison.

Mr. Gage, of California—I don't vote for Harrison.

There is a mistake in the vote. I demand a call of the roll of that State.

The chairman directed that the California dele-

The chairman directed that the California delegation be polled, and the roll of that State was called by the secretary, resulting as follows: M. M. Estee, Harrison: John F. Swift (by his alternate, Nathan W. Spaulding), Harrison; Creed Haymond, Harrison; Henry T. Gage, Alger; Horace W. Byington (by Alternate William H. Pratt), Harrison. The secretary announced the vote of California as follows: Alger, 1; Harrison, 15. When the call for Colorado came, the chairman of that delegation voted six for Allison. The secretary by mistake called it six for Harrison, whereupon the whole Colorado delegation shouted that the vote should be cast for Allison, and it was so entered. A roll-call for Pennsylvania was demanded by Louis R. Walters. All the delegates voted Sherman, except eight, who declared for Harrison as follows: Thomas W. South, Isaac Johnson, Louis R. Walters, C. L. Magee, William Flins, Peter Willer, jr., George M. von Bonnhorst, John P. Moore, Archibald B. Kelly. The result of the seventh ballot was announced as follows: Total number of votes cast 831; Alger, 120; Allison, 76; Gresham, 91; Harrison, 278; Sherman, 231; Blaine, 15; McKinley, 16; Foraker, 1; Creed Haymond, 1; Lincoln, 2. The vote in detail was:

	STATES.	No. Delegate	Sherman.	Harrison,	Alger.	Gresham.	Allison.	Blaine	McKinley.	Foraker.	Haymond.	Lincoln.
2	Alabama	20	12	1	6			1
	Arkansas	14	****	****						****	****	****
1	California	16	*	15	1	****	****				****
	Colorado	ti		4	*		- 19		7	*	200
	Connecticut	12	-0	5	- 2	1	****	****
31	Delaware	6 8	*	7	3		****	****
4	Florida	24	17	3	1	1					200	1
	a Georgia	44		3	i	40					****
	Illinois	30		20		- 1			***			***
	Indiana	26	1000				26	der.	****
g	Kansas	18	1	12	1		3	****
	Kantucky	26	- 9	10	- 5	4	444	1	- 1			****
- 1	Louistana	1.0	9		- 8	- 2	- 2	****
r	Maine	12	1	2	- 2	- 2	- 1	*	3	-	****
3	Maryland	16	. 6	18	****
4	Massachusotts.	195	11	- 9	2015	1	12
211	Michigan	26	*	*	20	*	*		*	*		1717
S	Minnesota	14	1152	8	2	3	*	1		*	333	1000
	Mississippl	18	14	77.3	14	12	*		1	****
	Missouri	32	ĩ			110		*				100
2	Nebraska	16				****
I	Nevada	6	*	*	*	*				10000
	New-Hampsh'e	18	*	10	*	1			- 5	4000
	New-Jersey	45		72							6400
-9	New-York	4213	12	3	7					1000
5	Ohio	40	45	1		*					1300
21	Oregon	6				- 15		2222	2444	2660
- 4	Pennsylvania	650	52	8							***	****
	Ehode island.	- 8		2	****
21	Sonth Carolina	18	6	1	11		****
	Tennossee	24	5	3	19		1	- 0	*	0.000
	b Toxas	26	2	3	2		8	- 24	12	****	- *
	Vermont	18	*	8	*	*	ō	****	***	****		****
t e	Virginia	24	10	3	. 3	*		*		5557	****	***
0	e West Virginia	12	*	20	*	8			****	****
	Wisconstn	22		20	4.896		*	12000	200000			-
	TRERITORIES.	- 44			40						222
-1	Atizona	10		10							1000
	Dakota	10			1		Done	- 4			444.8	S.xex
t	DLor Columbia	10				13.6			2444		***
f	Idado	- 53			1000	1
	New-Muxico	2	1		1			10000			5000
r	Utah	- 1					120				Lank	0400
	Washington			1	·i	4	++++	4444	****	***	++++
t	Wyoming		2				*	*		+4++	****
		_	-			-	-		1	-	1	10
e	Total	832	225	278	121	91	170	10	15	1	1 4	- a One vote short. b Five votes short. c Two votes short. CALLING THE EIGHTH BALLOT AMID CONFUSION. The Chair-No candidate having received a majority call the roll. General Henderson, of Iowa-I rise to a que of privilege. I desire to thank the friends of this Convention who have shown their confidence in the character and fitness of William B. Allison for the Presidency and here, with the authority of that gentleman, I withdraw his name from the further consideration of this Convention. (Great applause.)

The Chairman—The Convention will please come to order. (Cries of "Call the roll.")

The Chairman-Mr. Herk, please call the roll.

The Chairman—Mr. Herk, picase call the roll.

The Chairman—Mr. Herk, picase call the roll.

The clerk—Mabama, twenty votes. (Confusion.)

Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin—Mr. Chairman, 1 ask that the roll be called now in its regular order.

The Chairman—The Chair has already directed that, but we cannot do it until the Convention comes to order. Mr. Sergeant-at-arms, will you send your assistants through the aisles and direct that the memhers of the Convention be scated. (Cries of "Sit down, sit down.")

The sergeant-at-arms and assistant sergeant-at-arms will pass through the aisles and request the delegates to take their seats. Order must be preserved.

A delegate from Alabama—There is too much outside pressure here. We want order kept here so we can have an opportunity to vote.

The Chairman—The seggeant-at-arms will send a deputy to the Alabama delegation to keep outsiders away so that they may give their vote.

The Secretary—Alabama votes—
A delegate from Alabama—We want more time.

The Chairman—Alabama wants more time. The

The Secretary-Alabama votes-A delegate from Alabama-We want more the The Chairman-Alabama wants more time. The Chairman—Alabama wants more time. The clerk will proceed.

At this point the Pennsylvania delegation were seen upon their feet, some in consultation and some moving down the aisle with their hats on, apparently for the purpose of a conference outside the

Chairman-The secretary will again begin the

The Chairman - The call of the roll.

Mr. Warner, of Alabama - Mr. Chairman, I challenge the correctness of the count and ask for a roll call.

The Chair - The clerk will call the roll of the State The clerk then proceeded to call the roll.

The clerk then proceeded to call the roll, with the following result: Benjamin F. Long, Blaine; Albert Boyd, Sherman; James E. D. Hardy, Alger; John W. Jones, Alger; Prelate D. Barker, Alger; Frank H. Threet, Alger; Leander J. Bryan, Alger; Isaac N. Carter, Alger; Colonel N. Finley, Sherman; Ebert W. Locke. Alger; Stephen Childs, Alger; Lewis A. Parsons, Jr., Blaine; Colonel N. Finley, Sherman; Daniel N. Cooner, Sherman; William M. Robertson, Harrison; Willard Warner, Sherman; George W. Parsons, Sherman; James Jackson, Harrison; Henry C. Binford, Alger.

There was great confusion all over the hall, and the chairman was compelled two or three times to state that the roll-call would not proceed unless the delegates would take their scats.

When the State of Illinois was called Mr. Farwell, from that State, asked that the State be passed for a noment. (Loud cries of "No. no.") Senator Farwell then announced the vote of Illinois as follows: Four for Harrison; fouty for Gresham.

Kentucky's vote was challenged and polled. When Kentucky's vote was challenged and polled. When New-Jersey came in with her vote for Harrison there was some cheering, which was repeated when son of Tippecanoe."

> The Best High-Class Cigarettes Kinney Bros. Special Favours.

Mr. Pearson, of North Carolina, disputed the accuracy of the announcement of the vote of that State and asked that the delegates be polled. This was done. The same process had to be gone through with in the case of South Carolina. The announcement of sixteen votes from Tennessee for was dene. The same process had to be gone through with in the case of South Carolina. The through with in the case of South Carolina. The announcement of sixteen votes from Tennessee for Harrison created great applause and the delegates that the common cause, (applause) and he (Miller) could give the Convention the same pledge for every section and demanded a roll-call. This resulted in increasing the vote for Harrison to twenty.

When the chairman of the Texas delegation and demanded a roll-call. This resulted in increasing the vote for Harrison to twenty.

When the chairman of the Texas delegation that the twenty-six votes of that State for plumped the twenty-six votes of that State for Harrison it created great enthusiasm and the chairman was again obliged to rap vicorously for order. Virginia was polled as usual, with the result: Harrison and the delegates and the audience. When hisses from the delegates and the audience when the chairman of the result: Harrison announced twenty-two votes solid for Wisconsin announced twenty-two votes solid for Harrison, and in the southeast gallery mised a tremendous laugh by emitting a howl that was simply terrific. The vote then ran along all for Harrison until Wyoming finally announced two votes for him.

EVERYBODY AWARE OF THE RESULT.

When the common cause, (applause) and he (Miller) could give the Convention the same pledge for every section and faction of the party in the State, all represented here to-night.

THE BALLOT FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

Mr. Gage, of California seconded the nomination of Mr. Morton; Mr. Hallowell, of Kansas; General Hastings, of Pennsylvania; Mr. Marsh, of Illinois; G. C. Chandler of Mississippi. Mr. McElwee, of Tennessee, nominated W. R. Moore, of that State. Then the call of States proceeded, and soon s

EVERYBODY AWARE OF THE RESULT. When Wyoming's vote was taken every one knew that Harrison had been nominated, and without waiting for the formal announcement of the vote the Convention and the audience jumped up to make the customary demonstration. From various parts of the hall sprang into view National flags, umbrellas constructed of muslin, of red, white and blue, immense fans of various colors, and streamers of all kinds. The band helped the enthusiasm with "Hail to the Chief," "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "Marching through

After ten minutes the chairman's gavel and the After ten minutes the chairman's gave and the remonstrances of a number of the delegates brought the convention again to order, and the chair announced that the ballot would be repeated for verification. The chair said it was merely to compare the results from each State so there could be no mistake. A verification was the universal practice in the past.

tice in the past.

There had been no mistake, and the totals were had been no mistake, and the totals were a full way. Algar, 100: then read by the secretary as follows: Alger, 100: Gresham, 59; Harrison, 544 (applause); Sherman, 118; Blaine, 5; McKinley, 4.

STATES,	No. of Delegates	Harrison.	Sherman.	Alger.	Gresham.	Blaine.	McKinley.
Alabama	20	3	5	10		2
Arkansas	14	*		14
alifornia	16	15	*	*		1	****
colorado	12	12	****	****		****
Connecticut	6	6	****	****	****	****
Delaware	8	0		****		****
Florida	24	10	9	1.25	····i	••••	****
Georgia	44	4		1000	40
Indiana	30	29			1
lowa	26	22		1	3
Kanaas	18	18		1			1
Kentucky	26		7	í	2	- 1
Longianana	16	9	3	4	****	****	****
Maino	12	. 5	3	*	1	*	3
Maryland	16	11		· i	*	1
Mnesachusetts	26	20		26	****	****	****
Michigan	14	18	*	-1	****		****
Minnesota	18		11		3
Missouri	32	7	- 2	15	8
Nebrasia	10	9	- 1	1
Navada	6	4		2
New-Hampshire	8	8			***
New Jersey	18	18
New-York	72	72		****		****
North Carolina	22 46	8	11	3		****
Oh:0	8	6	40	****	****	****	****
Pennsylvania	60	59	1	****	****		****
Rhode Island	8	8	0.00		***
South Carolina	18	4	4	10
Tennessee	24	20		3
rexas	26	26
Vermont	8	. 8
Virginia	24	15	1)
West Virginia	12	12			****	****
Wisconsin	22	-2	****	****	••••
Arlzona	10	10	****	****	****	****	****
Dakota.		2	****	****	****
Dist, of Columbia	5		****	****	****
Montana	9	100			****		****
New-Mexico	01010101010	2	****
Utah.	- 9	2	1000
Washington	6	6	100
Wyoming	2	2
The second second	-	-	-	-	-		-
Totals.	832	544	118	97	59	5

The Chairman—General Hardson having received a majority of all of the votes of this Convention, shall his nomination be made unanimous?

Governor Foraker, of Ohio, was recognized by the chairman and advanced to the platform, where he was received with cheers and spoke as follows: Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention:

The delogation from Ohio came here all Sherman men.

They are all now Harrison men. (Applause.) It is easy for us to be so when we remember that General Harrison had the good sense to be born in Ohio.

(Laughter and applause.) I am directed by the unanimous vote of the Ohio delegation to move the Convention, in behalf of the State of Ohio, that the nomination of General Berjamin Harrison be made unanimous. (Several delegates cried "Second the motion.")

The motion was seconded by Mr. Horr, of Michi-

Depew, of New-York. Mr. Depew said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:
As an honored member of an honored State, I vote to make this nomination unanimous. (Cheers.) I knew when I came here that Ohio would carry away this body. (Laughter and cheers.) I was perfectly willing to accede to it because, in the experience of National elections, when an Ohio man is nominated he always wirs. (Cheers.) This Convention will adjourn in a different temper from any that has been held in a quarter of a century. No candidate before the Convention expected to succeed, and no one is disappointed. (Cheers and laughter.) We go away without any heart-burns but full of enthusiasm, as we came here for whatever the result might be. ("Good.") NewYork is the metropolitan city of this Union, and men from other States, as soon as they get too big for their own commonwealth, come to New-York (laughter), and when New-York finds a man too large for his own commonwealth and who word move, she adopts him (laughter), and New-York adopted Benjamin Harrison and voted for him solid, and you concurred in her views. The voice of my New-York and the voice of this Convention will be the voice of the American people next November. (Loud cheers.) You don't want a long speech You don't want a statemeet of principles. You don't want anything except to feel in unity and sympathy that enthusiasm going from this Convention and responding to every Jait of the country which, like the beats and throbs of the heart, sending blood everywhere, shall come back again in one of the old-time victories for Republicanism; for Republican principles; for the salvation of the industrial Interests of this country, headed by a soldier, General Harrison.

Loud appliause followed, during which Mr. De-General Harrison.

Loud applause followed, during which Mr. Depew descended to his seat and the whole New-York delegation rose to congratulate him, one of the members standing up with the picture of General Harrison in his hand, swinging it over the head of Mr. Depew. The motion of Governor Foraker was also seconded by General Hastings, of Pennsylvania, and Congressman Boutelle, of Maine, who concluded with the words.

I pledge you. Mr. President, and gentlemen of this tonvention, that in the forefront of the battle shall be found gleaming, as it has in every critical fight of Bopublican party, the white plume of our Henry Navarre (deafening cheers and applause), James

Mr. Boutelle left the platform while delegates Mr. Bouteile left the platform while delegates and audience fairly rent the air with cheers and applause, and waving hats, handkerchiefs, flags and everything that they could get their hands on. Amid great applause the motion to make the nomination unanimous was seconded by Creed Haymond, of California, and Mr. Davis, of Minnesotte.

CANDIDATE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT. THE CONVENTION ON THE FIRST BALLOT CHOOS

Chicago, June 25.-The Convention reassembled at en minutes past 6 and proceeded to the regular order. the presentation of names for the Vice-Presidential omination. Mr. Griggs, of New-Jersey, presented the name of William Walter Phelps. He claimed that New-Jersey was as much a necessary State as was ndiana. By the action of the Convention this afteroon the fifteen electoral votes of Indiana had been added to the votes of the surely Republican States and if to these were added the votes of New-Jersey, the election of the Republican ticket was certain.

The nomination of Mr. Phelps was seconded by Mr. Gibson, of Ohio; Mr. Egan, of Nebraska; Mr. Dolliver, of Iowa; Mr. Rosenthal, of Texas; Mr. Fuller, of North arolina; and Mr. Boutelle, of Maine. When New-York was called, Senator Warner Miller responded. He referred (and the andience greeted the reference with warm applause) to the candidacy of Mr. Depew for the Presidential nomination, and he said that that gentleman's name had been withdrawn in sorrow, but not in anger. (Applause.) He assured the Con-

At His Pest Day and Night.

The vigilant imp, indigestion, goads us with his many-iashed scourge. Each lash is a diabolic symptom. No ashed scourge. Each lash is a diabolic symptom. comfort in eating, misery afterward, little or broken at night, visitations of the nightmare during fitful interals of sleep, an uprising unrefreshed and without appetite leeplness and yawning during the day, nervousness and irritability of tempor, even monomania in extreme cases. Hard to bear, all this. Necessary? No! a thousand times no, so long as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the nation's specific for indigestion, acute or chronic, is procurable. The commencement of a course of this medicine is the commencement of a curse. Prompt relief first, absolute eradication subsequently. The truth of this statement, backed irrefragable testimony, is well known to the American people. So are others, viz That the Bitters averts and cures fever and ague and billous remittent, and removes nervousness, biliousness, constipation, and kidney and biadder troubles.

New-York cast seventy-two solid for the "Grandson of Tippecanoe."

Mr. Pearson, of North Carolina, disputed the aceursey of the announcement of the vote of that
New-York proposed to present for the Vice-Presidency was a man with whom he (Miller) had crossed swords. If the Convention would concede to the wish of New-York and give her this man as its candidate

STATES.	No. of Dele	Morton.	Phelps.	Bradley.	Bruce.	Thomas
Alabama	20	15		5
Arkanasa	14	18	****	****	****	***
California a	6	8		-	200	***
Celorado	12	12			1000	***
Connecticut	6	6			200
Flerida	_8
*COOPEIR	24	1	*	18		***
Illinois	30	30	15	2		***
Indiana	26	10	14	****	***
Towa	18	17		î		***
Kansas	26		000003	25	988	100
Kentucky	16	11	2	3
Maine	12	7	. 0
Maryland	16	12	3	1
Massachusetts	28	28	****	****	****
Michigan	26 14	15	2		****
Minnesota	18	6	*	3	****
M factatippi	32	25	2	5		122
Misseuri	10	5	5		2000
Nevada	- 6	6			1000
New-Hampshire	100	7	1
NAW JUTARY	18	72	18	****
New-York	72	14	****	****
North Carolina	46	30	8	2	****
Ohio	6	8		· °	****	***
OregouPennayivania	60	52	8	****		***
Rhode Island	8	8
South Carolina	18	17	1
Tennesse	24	9		11
Texas	26	10	15
Vermont	24	16	5	****	****
-Virginia	12	12			****
West Virginia	22	18	3	ï
TREPUTOPIES						1
Arizona	2	.2
Dakola	10	10
Dist. of Columbia	2	2		****
Idaho	-	2		****	****	***
Montana	2		****	****	****
New-Mexico	2	2	****		****
Utah	6	ã	"	****
Washington	2	2
Totals	832	591	119	103	11

Mr. Denny, of Kentucky, moved that Mr. Morton's nomination be made unanimous. Senator Sewell, of New-Jersey, seconded the motion, and promised the full and hearty support of Mr. Phelps to the ticket.

The motion was agreed to, and the chair declared that Mr. Morton was the nominee of the Convention for the Vice-Presidency. On motion of General Husted, of New-York, the National Committee was directed to provide in its call four years hence that the Territory of Alaska shall we two delegates to the Convention. Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, then rose and said that in behalf of a large number of delegates, he desired to move to suspend the rules anl adopt a resolution to be added to the Republican platform. There was at once great disorder, conflicting motions, cheers, remonstrances and angry disputing. Finally quiet was restored, and Mr. Boutelle read the resolution as follows:

"The first concern of all good government is the virtue and sobriety of the people and the purity of their homes. The Republican party cordially sym-pathizes with all wise and well-directed efforts for the promotion of temperance and morality." As soon as this was read there was a rush from the various States to second the motion, and after some time the question was put and the resolution adopted by a rising vote, only one delegate from Maryland being brave enough to record himself in the negative. A vote of thanks was then tendered to the Chairman and other members of the Convention, and then on motion of Mr. Hiscock the Convention at 8:25 adjourned without day.

THE INDIANA MEN DELIGHTED. AN UPROARIOUS RATIFICATION MEETING WITH SPEAKERS FROM OTHER STATES.

Chicago, June 25 (Special) .- No sooner had the Convention adjourned than the Indiana headquarters became the scene of the wildest demonstrations of delight. General Harrison's friends were gan; Senator Farwell, of Illinois; Chauncey M. Depew, of New-York. Mr. Depew said:

| Joined by the delegates from the other States. Campaign songs were sung. Cheers were given that fairly shook the building. Everyb overflowing with enthusiasm. The crowd increased to such proportions that finally it became necessary to seek larger quarters.

"Come to our place," yelled an Iowa man. The invitation was accepted. Iowa had the most commodious quarters in the hotel, but they were soon filled to their utmost capacity. Sidney A. Foster, of Des Moines, mounted the platform.

"We are all Indianians," he declared, and the audience cheered lustily. "We all came here to nominate the next President (applause) and we have done so. (Cheers.) You will find there is not a drop of sluggish blood in Iowa. It is all up to 125, fever heat, for the gallant candidate that has been named, as it has often been before, by the power of his eloquence." (Cheers.) R. S. Peel, of Indiana, followed with a brief, telling speech and then "Ban" Butterworth, of Ohio, entered. He was given a rousing reception and his speech was cheered to the echo. He eulogized Harrison most gracefully. A Republican triumph was assured and Ohio would give a majority as great as she would have given for Sherman. Colonel Hepworth, of Illinois, spoke next. He was followed by the witty Horr, of Michigan. Chauncey Depew was called and he responded in a manner that gave every one a new idea of his sensibility and eloquence. Senator Frank Hiscock spoke also, and a number of other well-known orators from all parts of the country. The meeting did not break up until nearly 5 p. m., when it was adjourned amid uproarious cheers for the ticket. a drop of sluggish blood in Iowa. It is all up to

ENTHUSIASM IN PHILADELPHIA. EXPRESSIONS OF SATISFACTION FROM PROMINENT

MEN-BLAINE'S COURSE COMMENDED. Philadelphia, June 25 (Special).—The nomination of General Harrison gives unbounded satisfaction to the Republicans of this city, and has cast dismay and doubt into the Democratic camp. A crowd of several thousand men received the news at "The Fress" office with loud and hearty huzzahs. The reading of the cable from Mr. Blaine, asking his friends to respect his letters declining to be a candidate, was received with long faces. They thought it was a Democratic trick, but when the first dispatch was followed by a second one, the situation was accepted, and a vot in the crowd shouted. "Now for Harrison." the ballots showed Harrison's success, the crowd cheered themselves hoarse and then formed in line and marched, to tunes whistled by themselves, over several squares, shouting for the successful nominee.

The Merchants' Committee, headed by John Wanamaker, are jubilant over the result, and warmly commend Mr. Blaine for proving steadfast to his convictions. They say that Harrison is strong, and that tions. They say that Harrison is strong, and that he will rell Pennsylvania into the Republican column with 70,000 or more majority.

Wharton Barker said: "Of course I like the nomination and it will win."
Mayor Edwin H. Fitler said: "I heartily indorso it. The Convention could not have done better."
Hamilton Disston: "If Quay had kept his hands off Harrison would have been nominated on Saturday." Colonel Wendell P. Bowman: "I consider it most excellent nomination. I am preparing to mar-shal a grand demonstration in honor of General Harri-son, when the delegates reach home."

(For Sketches of the Candidates, see Fourth Page.) BRIGHT'S DISEASE-GRAVEL

There is nothing which I now enjoy that I do not owe the happy chance of having used Dr. David Kennedy's avorite Remedy at a time I was suffering all that a man being could endure. My troubles began in my idneys over nine years ago and from which

I Never Expected to Recover-

Later my physician said I had Bright's Disease, which was alarming information. To add to my affiction after I had been ill about two years, I had a bad attack of Gravel. I saw Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., advertised. After using three bottles I was well. I have never had a return of either complaint, and though I am over sixty years of ago I AM NOW VIGOROUS AND STRONG as I was in my prime. What physicians and all of the many remedics I had taken could not do Dr. Kennedy's Favorito Remedy did; it stayed the disease and made me

MRS. EMELINE P. MIZNER, Burg Hill, Ohio. Dr. D. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, Prepared at Rondout, N. Y. Price, $1; 6 for the